River Road Land; More Housing at Army Base

Plans for construction of 200 family housing units at the U.S. Army Installation in Granite City and assignment of 70 acres of land along the east boundary of the installation to the right was for Federal Aid Route 151 were announced today by Col. Donald Elmore, newly assigned commander of the Granite City base.

Col. Elmore, of the U.S. Army Aviation Systems Command (AVSCOM), replaces Col. Billy L. Odneal who has commanded the Army installation since July 1, 1971.

Odneal will continue to reside on the local base, but has been transferred to AVSCOM research and development engineer in St. Louis. Col. Elmore formerly was stationed with AVSCOM in St. Louis.

Col. Elmore said a request for appropriations for the 200 new family units on the base presently is before the U.S. Congress. If approved, the units would be built in the 1973 fiscal period which begins July 1, he said.

No Move Planned

He said the housing units are to be used to house St. Louis area-based personnel and were not an indication that a major move of AVSCOM from St. Louis to the local facility is planned.

AVSCOM officials announced in July that several sites are being studied for a relocation of AVSCOM, including the Granite City installation.

Officials in St. Louis said no decisions have been made on the proposed relocation, but several sites are being studied.

In announcing the release of the 70 acres to the Illinois Division of Highways, Col. Elmore also reported that 50 acres of land on the west boundary of the base, bordering the Chain of Rocks locks and the Mississippi River, have been made available to the U.S. Corps of Engineers for lever work.

10 Committees Proposed for New County Board

Formation of 10 committees for the new Madison County Board was proposed at a meeting of four returning and 10 incoming members of the County Board of Supervisors Friday afternoon.

Each committee will operate with subcommittees to handle various functions of the county government.

The new board of 29 members, reduced from the current 49-member board, will be convened at its first meeting when it organizes and selects a chairman. The proposal will not be binding on the new board.

The committees include finance, law enforcement, transportation, county buildings, health, central services, planning and personnel, public works, welfare and education committee and an executive committee composed of committee chairmen.

Mall Hearing Tuesday

A public hearing on a proposal to create a downtown Granite

City mall will be held at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the third-floor convention room at city hall.

It was announced Friday by Mayor Donald Partney.

It will be the second such hearing and has been scheduled to eliminate questions to the legality of the first hearing held on Feb. 29.

Mayor Partney said that planning for the mall project now calls for completion of construction by Thanksgiving "unless we encounter unforeseen obstacles."

Plans for the mall design prepared by Harland Bartholomew & Associates, St. Louis, will be presented in tomorrow night's hearing by the Local Board of Public Improvements which was created in 1970 to administer the mall project and a special assessment financing program.

If the plan is approved, the mall will be developed by a board which will proceed immediately with appraisal of property that will be included in the mall area so that a petition for court approval of the project may be filed as soon as possible.

Explanations

Partners said the petition to the court also will include a proposed expansion of the mall area to include additional sections of State Street and Edison

Avenue, but that this construction will not be undertaken until after the first phase of the project, now planned is completed.

The mayor said details of the

mall project and a rate of special assessments which must be paid by the mall developer

will come from the mall committee subject to approval by the court.

Cost of the mall construction is estimated at $250,000.

The plan calls for improving sidewalks, adding sidewalks on 39th Street from Niedringhaus Avenue to State Street, and the creation of "on street" parking spaces with angle parking. Curblines will be changed

News Notes -- No Homestead Tax Exemption This Summer

The Illinois Supreme Court ruled 5-2 Friday that a $1,500 homestead tax exemption for those 65 and older is unconstitutional for 1971 assessments in time to affect tax bills for 1971.

Officials in the state's new constitution specifically permits

homestead taxes this year.

Counties are expected to collect about $2 million more in real estate taxes as a result of the decision.

"Validity of the exemption for 1972 and subsequent years is reserved for decision," the court said. This is interpreted as meaning that the 1971 exemption will be covered by a decision of the Assembly in June, effective date of the new

Illinois Constitution. The new

constitution specifically permits

homestead taxes this year.

Officials said that the petition to the court also will include a proposed expansion of the mall area to include additional sections of State Street and Edison

Avenue, but that this construction will not be undertaken until after the first phase of the project, now planned is completed.

The mayor said details of the

mall project and a rate of special assessments which must be paid by the mall developer

will come from the mall committee subject to approval by the court.

The body of Raymond Gene Allen, 31, of 900 Twenty-fourth Street, missing since April 7, was found Saturday morning at St. Louis.

He was last seen April 7 at about two miles north of the Chain of Rocks Bridge. He had been stabbed several times in the chest.

Charged with murder in the case is Arthur Lee Teller, 25, of 212 Adams St., who is being held in the Madison County Jail. He was to appear in court this afternoon when bond was to be set.

A missing person report on Allen was filed April 9 by his father, Thomas R. Allen, of the 212 Street address, who said his son had not been seen April 7 after he gave his vacation pay.

His empty wallet was found at 24th and Adams streets and his red-over-white 1965 convertible auto was found in Teller's possession, police alleged.

Allen was a busboy at the Elbow Room, 2240 Cleveland Blvd.,

on Cleveland Blvd., was arrested early Friday on charges of burglary of the home of Clifford Gaynor, 2142 Cleveland Blvd.

Entry to the basement was gained through the rear door after a basement window was broken. Teller was found hiding behind an old washing machine and Shoffra was in the back yard, police alleged.

Teller admitted the stabbing and the breaking and entering of the Gaynor home.

He allegedly said he and Mr. Allen drove to the vicinity of Stump Lake on Saturday, April 8, to fish and drink beer, police related.

Authorities quoted Teller as saying he and Mr. Allen argued over a woman and that he struck Mr. Allen with a hunting knife, pushed him out of the car and drove away. The weapon has not been found.

Shoffra was not implicated in the killing, police said.

Industrial use of the area is limited, police said.

He is charged with first-degree murder and breaking and entering.

He is due to be arraigned on the charges April 20.

Allen was held without bail.

He is being held in the Madison County Jail.

Allen was born in 1946 in Madison.

Hearing Ends in GC Steel Pollution Case; Both State, Company Agree on Settlement

By GARY SCHNEIDER
Press-Record Staff Writer

Two days of public hearings into a proposed settlement between Granite City Steel Co. and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency ended here Thursday with officials with both sides agreeing it is the best possible settlement under present conditions.

The Illinois Pollution Control Board conducted the hearings at the Civil Defense Building, 1411 Nineteenth St. Wednesday and Thursday to determine if the agreement should be approved by the board.

A transcript of the hearings will be studied by the IPCB which either may approve the document or call for further hearings.

Under the proposal, Granite City Steel Co. would be required to post $3,670,000 in penal surety to guarantee the installation of $4,000,000 in pollution control equipment and the establishment of a $150,000 scholarship fund at the University of Illinois.

Settled at Hearing

At Thursday's session, Samuel Lawton Jr., hearing examiner and a member of the IPCB, heard testimony from Father William J. Hogan, a member of the Society of Jesus and an associate of Fordham University of New York; President Erwin E. Hedges, executive secretary of the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board; and Mrs. Irene Dallas, wife of a Granite City Alumnus, William Dallas, a resident of 2001 E. 20th Street, near the company's Basic Oxygen Furnace Division.

Father Hogan, an expert on the economic effect of business on an area, testified to "closing a substantial economic effect" closing the plant, rather than meeting pollution requirements, would have on Granite City.

Loss Would Be Heavy

Father Hogan said the closing of the plant would mean a $82,034,000 loss to Granite City in money the company spends for services, taxes and employment.

The loss to Illinois would be $100,818,000 and the loss to the country would be about $176,832,000 with other companies losing such products as steel products employing 3,600 for their families, the loss to Granite City would be between $300 million and $500 million, he said.

He also said Granite City would lose $3,466,000 annually in property taxes alone if the company were to close, 36% of the city's tax revenue.

Townshend would lose $358,000 in taxes each year or 20% of the town's income.

Father Hogan testified that the unemployment situation in Granite City would be worsened by the plant's closing.

Granite City Steel employs 4,000 workers of which about 2,500 reside in the city, he explained. He said in January, 8.4% of the work force here was unemployed as compared to 10.8% in the city.

He said 15% of the city's work force is employed by the company and their release would substantially increase unemployment. The average age of steel company employees is 45 years who would make it difficult for most to find new jobs, he added.

Also addressing the hearing Thursday was Mrs. Dallas, who alleged that residents in business on an area, testified to "closing a substantial economic effect" closing the plant, rather than meeting pollution requirements, would have on Granite City.

At Wednesday's session, Donald E. Cairne, vice-president of the steel company, disclosed that studies on the effects of the closing had been conducted earlier this year.

"It is said that a new facility like this should put out so much dust. It is turning the trees and other property at my home red," she testified.

The third person to address the hearing was President Erwin E. Hedges who read the text of a statement presented to the hearing examiner at the previous day. The text covered each point of the settlement and suggested that closing such a plant would be disastrous. His statement was published in Thursday's Press-Record.

Closing Statements

Lawton then heard closing arguments from Randall Robertson, Lee H. Hedges, attorneys for the steel company, and Fred C. Prillaman, enforcement service manager of the bureau of legal services for the EPA, and Thomas J. Immell, chief of the EPA environmental control division, southern region.

Robertson concluded that the company "has gone into an extremely static state of art in the steel making operation and their application to the existing plant and the time period to get it into use as stipulated by the permit."

"On the basis of the urgent desirability of completing the program and applying it to the Granite City area, we request

Schneiderman said, but while this is being done, a hand tabulation will be made at the sites, one in Williamson County in southern Illinois, and probably in LaSalle and Grundy counties as well.

Schneiderman stressed that the Institute is "not in the business of reclaiming land," but "he wants to demonstrate how the state could, in a few years, reclaim some 500,000 acres which presently lie idle," he said.

A quarter of a million dollars will be spent through the Institute for Environmental Quality to produce three or four four-page reports which are not expected to involve more than 500 acres of land.

The part of the estimated 150,000 to 160,000 acres of worked-over land in Illinois which has at some time been used in surface coal mining operations.

Michael Schneiderman, director of the Institute, said the property involved is acreage on which mining had been done since 1910, mining operations ceased, some of them as much as 30 or 40 years ago.

There are another estimated 100,000 acres in the state on which mining has been done, while work has been done while the remaining 60,000 to 75,000 acres have been reclaimed, at least to minimum standards.

$500 Per Acre

Presently, Schneiderman said, costs appear to run about $500 an acre to reclaim abandoned strip mine land, though it can run into the thousands of dollars for a single acre. At least 75%, and up to as much as 90% of the cost comes from the need to haul the heaps of dirt and debris left behind by the strip mining operation.

Institute recently received a grant of $20,000 for a two-year study to locate and pinpoint the "orphan" strip mining sites, on which nothing has been done. He expects the plots, which range in size from one-half acre to one thousand acres, to be scattered through 30 to 50 Illinois counties.

Miss Diane M. Teeter Michael Pritchard Wed

Miss Diane M. Teeter, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Teeter, 1531 Bell Blvd., and Michael J. Pritchard, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Pritchard, 249 Center St., were united in marriage Saturday, in an afternoon ceremony at Sacred Heart Roman Catholic Church.

Mrs. Margaret Crawford, organist, played the "Theme from Romeo and Juliet," "We've Only Just Begun," and "Love Me Tender" in the arrival of the wedding party.

Large bouquets of white carnations, pom poms and gladiolas, together with white satin bows on the pews, decorated the church sanctuary for the 2 o'clock double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Daniel Flynn.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride selected a gown decorated with an Empire bodice of white velvet, embellished with clusters of seed pearls, and a bouffant skirt of silk organza.

The long, tapered sleeves, also of white velvet, were cuffed with wide bands of lace and appliqued lace motifs edged the detachable Chapel length train.

A headpiece of seed pearls and crystals held in place a bouffant veil and she carried a bouquet of white carnations, baby breath and camellia leaves.

Miss Denise Teeter, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Mrs. Jenne served as bridesmaid.

They wore full length gowns fashioned with a high collared neckline. Long, tapered sleeves and an A-line skirt, with satin ribbons encircled the Empire waist.

The honor attendant's gown was made in orchid and pink floral print, while the bridesmaids also wore pink print gowns.

Both wore soft brimmed hats decorated with ribbons and long streamers in shades to match their dresses. Their flower arrangements of pink roses and carnations, white daisies and baby breath, centered on circular lace and festooned with orchid and pink silk streamers.

The little flower girl, Darlene Rutkowski, a cousin of the bride, was attired in a floor length, yellow and pink dress, fashioned in the same style as the bride, with a pink sash. She wore a bouquet of yellow flowers and lace and carried a miniature bouquet.

Jim Brawley was best man serving with George Grogan, groomsman, and Jack Briski and Duane Teeter, a brother of the bride, ushers.

Miss Phyllis Smith was in charge of the cake book during an evening reception at the VFW Hall in Granite City.

The bride's parents are Mrs. Vernon Julian, 3908A Gaslight Walk, and Clinton Julian.

Donna Julian Married In Candlelight Setting

Hope Lutheran Church was marked with white bows and the scene of the wedding Saturday evening of Miss Donna L. Julian and David R. Polivick.

The bride's parents are Mrs. Vernon Julian, 3908A Gaslight Walk, and Clinton Julian.

The groom is a son of Mrs. Murret Polivick, 2649 Grand Ave., and the late John Polivick.

The Rev. J. Louis Oetting, pastor of Hope Lutheran Church, the Rev. Donald Clark, an uncle of the bride, pastor of First Baptist Church in Dexter, Mo., officiated at the 7:30 p.m. ceremony.

A seven-branched candelabra, with lit candles and a bouquet of white chrysanthemums decorated the altar. Pews were decorated with white bows and greenery.

Miss Beverly Henderson presided at the organ for Virgil L. Hudson, soloist, who sang "More" and "The Wedding Song."

The bride appeared in a floor length gown of white silk with a lace-trimmed lace detailed bodice, the sheer yoke and cascaded down the front of the skirt. The Venise lace accents accented the bodice, the waist and cuffs of embroidery and eyelet trimmed the sheer edging sleeves of organza.

Eleven rings were repeated on the chapel length train, secured at the waist with a satin bow and a small diamond. The gold bands formed the semi-circular headpiece holding in place a triple tiered, waist-length veil of bridal illusion. She carried a colorful bouquet of white tulips and pink roses and greenery.

Miss Ann Aufderheide was maid of honor and Miss Linda Hudson and Miss Debbie Polivick, a sister of the groom, were bridesmaids.

The attendants wore identical, formal length dresses of lime green, fashioned with a high waist, wide belt and slightly puffed sleeves. The congealed skirts, designed with a ruffled flounce at the hemline, also were trimmed with white lace.

They wore white strappy boots trimmed with a lime ribbon at the crown and held pincers of multi-colored spring flowers in a predominately pink tree.

The bridegroom chose Laird Scott as best man, with Steven Hartman and Allen Wachter as groomsmen. Arthur Heschel Baker, Jr. and Timothy Zotti were ushers.

Guests were received by the newly married couple at a reception given in the church parlor. Mrs. Beverly Heschel Baker Jr. presided over the guest book and Miss Justice Seymour and Miss Terry Reid assisted at the serving table.

After a two-week trip to Denver, Colo., the couple will make their home in Granite City.

Both young people are 1969 graduates of Granite City High School. The former Miss Julian is a junior student at SIU-SW where she is majoring in special education. She is also employed at Hudson Jewelers.

Mr. Polivick, 2649 Grand Ave., is employed at Vt. Vt. Tombay Market. He also is a volunteer worker for Co-Ordinated Youth Services in Granite City.

Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Jutjat of Elsinore, Mo., grandparents of the bride; Walter Schue, Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Schulz both of Jackson, Mo., Mrs. and Mr. and Mrs. John and Mrs. James, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wachter, Liberty, Mo., Mr. and Mrs. L. ## Bills to Encourage Study of 12-Month School Plan

By JOAN MURARO

Copley News Service
Springfield — Legislation to encourage interest in school districts to study the possibility of a 12-month school program, and to provide aid in paying preliminary transition costs if the district goes to a 12-month plan, will be introduced during the current legislative session by the office of the state school superintendent.

The office of Superintendent Michael Bakalis has announced it will introduce the two-area bills during the current session—the full-year incentive plan, and a financial planning grant and legislation covering performance assessment. Both bills have already been given unanimous approval by the School Problems Commission. The performance assessment guidelines are undergoing final revisions but are expected to be completed within two weeks.

Initial apprehension is included in the proposed legislation at this time because it is not expected that any district would be ready to implement the change to a 12-month schedule earlier than during the coming year.

The fiscal 1973 OSPI budget does include $150,000 earmarked for full-year feasibility studies, such as this. Problems

No specific year-round plan will be proposed. Instead the bill that Bakalis' office will support recognizes that each community will have its own needs and problems to be met in considering a round-the-year school program, and will encourage local community involvement in any such consideration.

Rather, the bill recognizes that a number of districts are interested in the idea, but have been restricted from researching its possibilities because of a lack of funds. If the bill wins approval, such districts would be eligible to receive grants to help meet local conditions and attitudes, and possible advantages, without taking funds from any ongoing instructional program.

The proposed legislation also would provide for technical and consultative assistance including data processing, to be made available to the districts by the OSPI office.

Child Injured, Treated

Joey Moore, a 3-week-old girl of Granite City, St. Louis, was treated at St. Elizabeth Hospital last week for an abrasion and a contusion to his scalp suffered in an auto accident. He was released following treatment.

Spokesmen in Bakalis' office stress that the measure would not require school districts to switch to the 12-month program; nor does it make any claims that a 12-month schedule has educational or financial advantages.

Rather, the bill recognizes that a number of districts are interested in the idea, but have been restricted from researching its possibilities because of a lack of funds. ### To Schools in State

Decision by Courts Now Could Be Disastrous

Court decisions on challenges to the system of financing public school education in Illinois hopefully will be held in abeyance, at least until a court can be suggested by the state, Allen Schwartz, legal adviser to State Superintendent of Public Instruction Michael Bakalis, said yesterday. Schwartz, Illinois University-Scholarship.

"If the courts made a decision tomorrow, we would have to switch to the 12-month program, nor does it make any claims that a 12-month schedule has educational or financial advantages," Schwartz said. "Based on decisions in other states, we don't know with certainty, but my own knowledge with what to replace the current system of local property taxes. We're attempting to come up with a sensible, not a sensible, but a workable solution."

Schwartz, speaking to school administrators at the SU-SW sixth annual School Law Conference, said an opinion by the California Supreme Court in the case of Illinoian v. Priest on August, 1971, has been an impetus for suits in 38 states, including Illinois.

The Serrano case in Illinois because it is one of two states that still have similar systems of financing public education on the primary and secondary levels, Schwartz said.

Assessed Valuations

"The California Supreme Court found that the school district revenue is raised from local real estate taxes, which are based largely on a school district's assessed valuation," Schwartz said.

The California guidelines maximum spending is $355 per pupil per year, the court found that in the Beverly Hills school district, the annual expenditure per pupil was $300, while in the independent Baird Hill district, the annual expenditure was $577. Furthermore, Schwartz said, the court noted that because the assessed valuation of Beverly Hills was so much higher, taxpayers there were paying a far lower tax rate per $100 on their property.

Two quartets from the Granite City Chapter are entering the competition. They will be second entry for the Ford-Do-Matics, and the first for the just recently organized Georgie-Girls.

In their attempt to win the regional contest, the Ford-Do-Matics will sing "Sing Me a Baby Song" and "Mother's Eyes". The Georgie-Girls have selected "Them There Eyes" and "If I Had the Heart of a Grown Up."

Singers in the Ford-Do-Matics are: Mrs. Judy Holtzclaw, tenor; Mrs. Peggy Raebel, lead; Mrs. Lee Phelps, baritone; and Mrs. Vi Cook, bass. The Georgie-Girls are: Mrs. Terry Studebaker, soprano; Mrs. Ethel McCann, lead; Granite City; Mrs. Margie Velas, baritone; Mrs. Pat Farrington, bass; Granite City.

George Bagot of Jennings, Mo., is the coach for both quartets. He also directs the Collinsville Chorus.

Mobile Home Looted

Burglars looted the mobile home of a Granite City man, 1810 Rapp Road. It was reported to the Madison County Sheriff's Department last week. Entry was gained through bedroom window. Taken were a man's silver watch, valued at $25, a woman's gold watch valued at $30, a $30 camera and $6 in coins.

Equal Spending

"Now we have no definition of what is equal spending, no definition of allowable variances, no certain answer to the question of can we spend more on the poor than on the rich, unequal spending per pupil."

Equal spending

"I predict a fundamental change in school financing in Illinois," Schwartz said, "but the Serrano case and the cases in other states do not say how the financing should take place. What they do say is that no taxing systems can perpetuate unequal spending per pupil."

Staunch Airport Stand by St. Louis Mayor, Irresponsible Moves by Missouri Governor

The much-maligned mayor of St. Louis may deserve some of the criticism directed at him. But he has shown considerable poise and courage in continuing to support the Illinois airport idea developed by his administration and that of Governor Richard Ogilvie of this state.

Our respect for Mayor A. J. Cervantes has risen since it became clear to him that it is easier for him to cumber and give in to the political direct and indirect pressure applied to him by certain Missouri governmental and business leaders.

Instead, he has held to his belief that a major new airport situated nearby in Illinois can be an economic lifesaver for the entire bi-state region—and the city which serves as the nucleus of the metropolitan area.

His performance contrasts sharply with that of Missouri Gov. George Wallace Hanes, whose latest play has been to call for a referendum on the airport. To submit a highly technical issue in simplistic terms and to utilize stacked-deck wording of the ballot questions appears to us to be the height, or depth, of irresponsibility.

Gov. Ogilvie sees little merit in such an election. "If we were to hold similar referendums on most public works projects, nothing would ever get done."

Mayor Cervantes says that Hanes' "decision to have a popularity contest vote on Missouri versus Illinois sites is just another attempt to hoodwink the public and block realistic, well-financed efforts to provide St. Louis with a second metropolitan area airport."

He adds that the "phony, desperate, last-ditch delaying tactic is particularly ironic in view of the tentative allocation of a mere $25,000 in state funds for the next fiscal year for the illegally-created Missouri-St. Louis Airport Authority. Even the members of this new authority conceded it will probably end its life before it is started."

Brian Whalen, executive assistant to Ogilvie, notes that "if it would be possible to have everybody in the region read all 30 pounds of very technical reports that are available, then such a vote could possibly have some meaning." But as a matter of fact, officials in the Federal Aviation Administration and Department of Transportation are going to have to decide on technical grounds, such as environment and airspace, not on the basis of a popularity contest.

Frank Whalen, executive assistant to Ogilvie, notes that "if it would be possible to have everybody in the region read all 30 pounds of very technical reports that are available, then such a vote could possibly have some meaning." But as a matter of fact, officials in the Federal Aviation Administration and Department of Transportation are going to have to decide on technical grounds, such as environment and airspace, not on the basis of a popularity contest.

For one thing, why doesn't the city or state or school board hire two guards for each crossing? We feel sorry after reading it, and then go on reading the rest of the paper, unless this pertains to us.

Well, it did happen to our daughter and her cousin on Feb. 24. This letter is a little late because her mother and I have spent 27 days at the Cardinal Glennon Hospital, to be with her every minute we were.

She was in traction with a Stein am her leg, and she is in a body cast that will have to be worn for another month.

She is in pain and suffering as has gone through are not worth it.

To see and go through something like this is just about all that the human heart can stand.

I can understand now and truly be sorry for some parents who have gone through this with their children.

Why? Well, I feel that on that day a terrible mistake was made. I'm not saying that this or that person is to blame, because I've heard conflicting details about it.

I do say that our school crossing is not adequate.

The state law says that a red light, or flashing red light, means to stop.

Why are these cars not made to stop, especially when children are walking there waiting to cross the street?

I say that a crosswalk belongs to a child or a person and all cars should come to a full stop.

I've lived here all my life and, to my knowledge, there have been six children hit in that two-block area.

Throughout the Tri-City area, there have been many children hurt. Some injuries were fatal. This just shows that our present crosswalks are not adequate. Why not try a few more?

State Primary a Hectic Path to Presidency But Leads to Unifying National Convention

The proliferation of presidential primaries this year leads to the thought that there would be some benefit from a national primary. But there also would be considerable hazard in abandoning the national convention system in nominating the presidential candidates of the two major parties.

The two-party system, already threatened by splintering of party allegiances, might not survive a national presidential primary. Minor parties, already multiplying, would be encouraged if the major parties fell apart into factions.

The two-party system has been good for America. Gov. George Wallace and Dr. Benjamin Spock, far apart ideologically, both say that "there is a wide berth of difference between the major parties. But if it is acceptable if the extremes of political thought are not satisfied by the big parties.

The Democratic and Republican parties admittedly are centrist. They are amalgamations of viewpoints. Each encompasses a wide spectrum of political views. Each embodies the great compromise necessary to maintain the stability of our political system.

Transference of national power and responsibility back and forth between the two parties is frustrating to some, but it is orderly and peaceful.

The main function of a national party convention is the harmonization of conflicting views. Party unity is essential if a victory is to be gained in November.

Unity can only be found in a candidate acceptable to all factions, although he may be extremely popular with none. Therefore, the convention often seeks a consensus candidate, not the actual leader but everybody's second choice.

A national primary, instead of welding the party into a unit, would tend to fragment it, just as the state primaries do.

The Democrats have had a dozen active candidates for their presidential nomination this year, and the Republicans have fallen by the wayside. With no precise pattern emerging from the primaries held thus far, it is likely that national primary balloting also would fail to show any single aspirant with overwhelming support. And it is possible that a fringe-of-the-spectrum candidate might win just as has occurred in some states.

Splitting of the vote nearly always tends to aid the prospective nominee who has fractional, but solid support, as opposed to those who have wide but comparatively shallow support.

Even if a runoff primary were held between the top two candidates, voters might have to choose between two extremes. The solid middle might find itself with nowhere to go.

The confusion of the state primaries, the expense the toll it takes on the candidates—all these are distorting, but not eliminating, for all the candidates and both have usually been able to restore unity and party harmony.

The present system would have to be proved intolerable before it would seem advisable to change it for an uncontested system that would probably be even more costly and that could undermine the two-party system.

Name and address must accompany each letter but will not be revealed if anonymity is requested. Communications of less than 250 words will be given preference. All are subject to condensation and grammatical changes. Those libelous or in bad taste will be rejected or edited.

If nothing is done to improve on this basis, and unless some of these crossings, all of the mothers should take their children and make sure they cross safely. It would be well spent.

Surely, with so many people out of work, it would give them and the cost would not be that much for a few hours a day.

The money would be well worth it.

What about a revolving red light in the center of the street to draw attention to the school crossing for the children? This is a simple way to use gates, as for a train crossing.

It may sound funny to some, but you don't hear of too many cars going through them.

She is in pain and suffering as has gone through are not worth it.

To see and go through something like this is just about all that the human heart can stand.

I can understand now and truly be sorry for some parents who have gone through this with their children.

Why? Well, I feel that on that day a terrible mistake was made. I'm not saying that this or that person is to blame, because I've heard conflicting details about it.

I do say that our school crossing is not adequate.

The state law says that a red light, or flashing red light, means to stop.

I say that a crosswalk belongs to a child or a person and all cars should come to a full stop.

I've lived here all my life and, to my knowledge, there have been six children hit in that two-block area.

Throughout the Tri-City area, there have been many children hurt. Some injuries were fatal.

This just shows that our present crosswalks are not adequate. Why not try a few more?

Golden Shows His Humor Is Golden

THE GOLDEN BOOK OF JEWISH HUMOR; By Harry Golden; G.P. Putnam's Sons; 252 pages; $6.95.

Harry Golden doesn't make fun of his Jewish origin; he just has fun with it.

Author of 17 books, including "The Golden Book of Jewish Humor," Golden has written a treasure chest of Jewish anecdotes in a compendium of humor dealing with sex, mothers, Midrash, Beach and a host of other things Jewish.

His book is a collection of stories culled from a variety of sources—from Golden's countless lectures; from the pages of his Carolina Israeltor, from "New York," "Lower East Side"; from celebrities, stand-up comics, rabbis, priests, writers, politicians, educators and from his own imagination.

"The Golden Book of Jewish Humor" could be valuable as a speaker's guide on how to break the ice with an audience. It would be a great Bar Mitzvah gift.

But why not try a few more?

Whalen accurately concludes, "You can't escape the fact that Missouri doesn't have a state, it doesn't have the funds and it doesn't have a program. All the camouflage and political talk in the world can't change that."

When the hand of God through his human instruments, Moses failed in all other warnings, it was only the plague of his face and his reign.

Pet Parade to Launch Animal Protective Week

A colorful parade of children, pets, floats, horseback riders, a live cougar and well-known cartoon characters from Sesame Street and Disneyland will brighten Granite City streets on Saturday, according to Mrs. Judith Johnson, president of the Association for the Protection of Animals (APA).

All area youngsters between the ages of 6 and 17 are invited to take part in the parade which will start at the start of "APA Week" in the Quilt Cities. Mrs. Johnson said. Prizes will be awarded individual entrants.

Marchers will assemble at 10 a.m. in Wilson Park on Niedringhaus to Madison Avenue with their pets, the APA official said.

The parade will proceed east on Niedringhaus to Madison Avenue, north on Madison to 29th Street and west on that street to Wilson Park, where refreshments will be served.

HARPSICORD BUILT TO ORDER by her husband for Mrs. Helen Fierstad of SIU-SW who will participate in a program of harpsichord and chamber music at 8:15 a.m. Saturday in the Lovejoy Library auditorium.

Harpsichord Built by Husband for Artist

Helen Fierstad, who had done graduate study in harpsichord with Marie Zorn at Indiana University, played one built for her by her husband Dale, a member of the music department faculty at Southern Illinois University-Southwestern.

Fierstad made the instrument from a kit designed by Frank Hubbard. "It's really known as a harpsichord maker and as a student of harpsichord history."

The Fierstad family drove to Waltham, Mass., at the end of the summer quarter of 1970 to pick up the kit. "I started working on it Labor Day," Fierstad said, "and finished Memorial Day. I couldn't begin to estimate the hours it took me to construct the harpsichord, but I worked at it every free moment I had from teaching."

Fierstad doesn't recommend that just anyone try to build a harpsichord. "It takes constant attention and dedication," he says, "and one should be able to tune and maintain it."

Mrs. Fierstad will participate in a program of harpsichord and chamber music at 8:15 a.m. Saturday in Lovejoy Library auditorium.

A graduate of the University of Oregon and Eastman School of Music, Mrs. Fierstad has studied piano with Paul Malmheim, Maxine Preissler, Joseph Battista and Ruth Stenczynska. She has studied organ with Harold Gleason, Heinz Arnold and Anton Heiller, and choral conducting with Olaf Christiansen.

New HUD project in Kewanee, Ill., has 74 studio and one-bedroom apartments. Architects: William A. Biba and James G. Peacock, Peoria. Contractor: Becker Brothers, Peoria. Operated by the Housing Authority Board of Henry County.

Electric heat means pleasant retirement living in new "HUD" apartments

Electric baseboard heating provides each resident with individual temperature control.

The comfort of senior citizens was a prime consideration in planning this new 8-story apartment building in Kewanee.

Built under sponsorship of the United States Department of Housing and Urban Development, the builder designed to provide dignified, comfortable living for people over 62.

Its 74 units are heated by electric baseboards which enable residents to control the heat in their apartments to the exact temperature they prefer. Electric heat also provides an environment that is quiet and peaceful. And its cleanliness means a minimum of upkeep and redecorating.

If you're a builder, it will pay you to find out why electric heat is specified in so much new construction these days. For a complete analysis of the practical advantages of electric heat, contact our sales representative.
